 Campus radios are not only sources of entertainment but also prove to be great starting points for aspiring RJs and content creators

Step-ups to real time experience

Nikhisha Uddagiri

There was a time when owning a radio was a big deal since it was the only source of entertainment. Later, with the explosion of technology, consumers found the convenience of smartphone overshadowing the simple box with the antenna and tuner. But still, the radio would continue to stay relevant throughout the ages offering unending entertainment to the young and old alike. Now there are a bunch of radio stations in many cities. As colleges joined the bandwagon, the radio became an important source on campus happenings.

Running a campus radio is no mean feat, as it involves keeping a constant lookout on latest news, sports, music and the events happening in the college or university. Programming is often done by students and may include programmes from experienced radio hosts to lead the station. Suchi Raju, a noted All India Radio jockey, currently works as the radio programming manager at Gokulraj Rangaraju Institute of Engineering and Technology in Bachavally. "Our campus-based community radio, Pragnya 90.4 FM offers programmes ranging from campus stories, social initiatives, health tips, environmental awareness to special festival programmes," says Raju.

The team of Pragnya focuses on content that is beneficial to individuals. For instance, they broadcasted a 7D episode programme. Aba Balarama kottavalsale went based on the syllabus of competitive exams where they discussed the past and present developments in the State. Amongst other shows they broadcast are: Machivata which is hosted by the principal of the college. The students of the college are generally sent on the field to record reactions of people in the surroundings and cover college events. The radio's frequency ranges up to 10-12 km and can be accessed by the surrounding places, including schools and other colleges. Apart from students, the local community is also encouraged to participate and discuss various local issues. The college is now planning to introduce a three-month course for people who are interested in radio jockeying.

IN SYNC Students in a live session of the Francis Boli radio channel in St. Francis College for Women, students performing a song on the radio channel Pragnya 90.4 FM of Gokulraj Rangaraju Institute of Engineering.

The University of Hyderabad (UOH) also has a similar radio which was established in 2011 by the Mass Communications Department. Soon after its launch, the channel Boli Hyderabad 90.4 FM created a buzz on campus with its live shows such as Uthi-vening, Jay Jay Hyderabad, pick up tables, Thought in passing, Shenkar, manuvox and 90.4 pal is pal. A former mass communications student, Anroga Laxmi, an established RJ at the time, was a part of the campus radio. "The radio ranging 10-15 km features shows based on college happenings and events, social issues and general music. The purpose of the radio is to both educate and entertain students. Any student can be a part of the radio," says Anroga Laxmi.

Interestingly, the frequency magnitude of Pragnya and Boli Hyderabad are same, so the colleges sorted out the timings so they don't overlap each other. Gokulraj Rangaraju broadcasts for hours a day from 12 to 2 pm and 3 to 5 pm, while UOH broadcasts at 6 am for about three hours and from 5 to 8 am.

Apart from the campus-based community radios in the city, some campus radios can be accessed through a website link anywhere. Francis Boli, the radio, started by St. Francis College for Women is a web radio. "We started it for mass communications students so they can gain some experience. We also train the students on voice culture as part of that. Any student who is interested in RJing can join the radio station. They are encouraged to come up with their ideas, do interviews, and figure out songs. During tests, students do news coverage with guest interviews, record guest lectures and play it with voiceovers. It helps in building creativity and confidence," says faculty member Current Biju. Most of the shows are broadcast during breaks which don't hinder regular classes. Students take care of the radio completely, a few take care of programming while others do hosting. Presently, the online radio has been stopped for a while, but the students are recording the shows and playing it on the campus. Well known RJ Ayra of Fever 104 FM was a part of the campus radio of the college.

178. Social Awareness by Om Shanthi Nagarajan Academy on 07-04-2017 .

A school library plays a great role in the life of a student. It is the store house of knowledge with its books suited to the interests and aptitude of students of different age group. Here they find an environment which is conducive to the building up of habit of self-learning. The library is the center of the intellectual and social activities of school. The library has got very wholesome effect over the work of school. Habit of reading can be cultivated and reading habit in them is made firm when students get that material to read which interests them and occupies their attention. In the class room the books that are prescribed may not serve the purpose, some students may not be in a position to purchase all books that they want to read, while others may not find books that are of interest to them. That is the reason why we have taken it up as an initiative to setup a small library in the school. Many children whose parents are ill now are likely to become ill themselves in later years. In their childhood they get little emotional and material support and they often have to start playing roles that are usually expected from adults. Moreover, the social stigma around HIV and AIDS, which prevents people from being open, increases the isolation of the affected. Not only do they have to deal with their own grief and emotional suffering but also this is made worse if the community treats them badly. These children have to be supported and be made felt as a part of community by society. The mission of Street Cause GRIET was to identify and support the children whose parents are ill/ ill and have died or children with HIV and AIDS.As the children are already under a lot of stress having to cope with their illness and possibility of death, the volunteers decided on taking the children in DESIRE society, through a day of fun through Tollywood! People are unaware of the damages caused by use of Ganesh idols made of Plaster of Paris and the chemical paints used on them for decorative purposes. To bring awareness and make this festival ecofriendly by using clay and non-hazardous materials in sculpturing of LORD GANESH idols an event was conducted on 03-09-16 at GRIET exclusively for 1st years. The event started at 11AM and ended by 4PM. Ganesha is the lord of power and wisdom. He is worshipped first before any auspicious work. Ganesha Chaturthi was just round the corner we made an attempt to spread the awareness on 'Going Green' about the way we celebrate this festival. Majority of the people who celebrate Ganesha festival bring home the 'painted' idols made of Plaster of Paris (POP) and perform rituals with devotion. The festival concludes with 'Ganesh Visarjan', a process of immersing the idol in a river. Unfortunately, not all cities are blessed with a river/sea in the proximity. Because of this, various ponds, lakes and other water sources are used to see-off the god. Since the paint material used to color the idol contains 'Lead', this is toxic in nature. PoP too gets dissolved slowly and increases the acidity of water and thus water is polluted when the idol is immersed. This adversely affects the environment and there have been reports of dead fish in the water source where the idols are immersed. Now that we have understood the problem, solution is pretty simple. Go for Ganesha idols made of natural clay which are not painted. This will not only be environmentally friendly but saves our ecosystem as well. Each and every student participated actively at Green Ganesha event. Everyone was so delighted to take the clay Ganesha.
